

Tets112 Majai - Strange

Artist: Majai
Title: Strange

Info:

How does it feel like in paradise? What will follow after death? Questions that are rising sporadically in everybody's mind. The Washington-based Trance touch-and-go-duo of 2008, Majai, imagines how it could be in their new track "Strange". For sure, it must be angelic, in no other words you can describe the celestial sound that rips into the heart of every EDM-fan. With the beautiful vocals of Anna Sennikova, "Strange" turns out to be a very emotional and deep going track.

The original mix impresses with a sophisticated melody and the attracting melancholia which is typical for Majai. Especially the echo-vocals of Anna bring that out. Although the track raises many questions, the sound remains very harmonic and balanced. Simultaneously, the rolling beat is pulling to the dancefloor. And at the latest, when Anna sings "Now I'm with you..." comforting goose-bumps make the sound-feeling perfect.

The mix-package contains almost every variation of electronic dance-music. Cressida delivers a beautiful masterpiece of progressive trance. Classical uplifting trance comes from Nitrous Oxide with a fat bassline and from Relocate, who includes more delicate extras. Talla's Crossover-alter ego 2XLC adds a wonderful progressive house remix. And DJ Preach turns to the "techy side of life".

The Washington-based DJ and producer-duo Majai was one of the top shooting-stars in trance-scene in 2008 with their massively played track "Phoria". In 2004 Majai – Mark Kruger and Anna Sennikova – published their first track "Change my mind". In 2007 they had their breakthrough with "Lightwave", a radio-charthit and favored track by Big Names in Trance, like Tiësto. And finally, in 2008, 'Phoria' made it onto Markus Schulz' Top 40, Tiësto's Podcast Top of 2008 - and was part of Armin van Buuren's End year-mix, featuring his top tracks of 2008.

Fucking awesome package. Diggin' 2XLC for the prog side of things and liking Re:locate's mix for a more trancier feel.
